What's New in the Reports Wizard?

E-signature software is the way you process, store and transfer contracts, agreements and other documents that require both your personal and company information. E-signature is the electronic equivalent of the traditional paper signature, allowing you to instantly and securely sign documents. It can be used to sign contracts and documents, which may have been faxed or emailed, or to endorse the use of electronic means to secure important, legally binding agreements. E-signature programs store documents digitally, providing the user with the ability to save and retrieve contracts and other documents. It permits you to sign on the go and at any time. With e-signature software, it doesn't matter whether the document requires your signature in front of a notary, your signature in front of a business associate or your signature when you are miles away from the office. It enables you to sign contracts, purchase orders, receipts, and other documents with just a few clicks of your mouse. E-signature software is a safe alternative to faxing, scanning, or paper. Additionally, it is a secure alternative to providing a physical signature. Key Features: Work File Sharing Files can be shared among users of the program Identity Verification Allows you to verify the identity of a sender User Authentication Allows you to control the access of a file Authorization Allows you to identify who is allowed to access a file E-mail Attachment Supports Email Attachment Support to Sign multiple documents When you need to sign a large number of documents, this software can be your most efficient solution. You can sign, or e-sign, as many documents as you need at the same time with the SignTool software. SignTool is a professional, full-featured e-signature software, written for the small to medium business market. It is specially designed for signing business documents electronically. Just as important, SignTool can be used with all email clients and ISPs that offer email attachment and encryption technologies. Document Management Ability to organize and manage documents Email document storage Collect all your documents, sign, archive and store them in the one place Document forwarding Forward documents instantly from SignTool to your external e-mail account Automated email signature Send an e-mail with your signature embedded Search for documents Search documents by email address, keywords, name, title and date Print Print to PDF, BCP, RTF, RTFX, or JPEG Finance Reporting This small and easy to use, professionally made software enables you to prepare financial reports, such as expense reports, financial reports, timesheets, receipts, and invoices. Built-in reports include summary reports for all types of receipts, timesheets, expenses, and billable hours. It provides a simple and effective way to quickly and accurately report on your job performance. Lifetime Support and Updates
