Ceiling Fan Switching Timer I have a single ceiling fan that I'd like to switch on/off based on when the sun comes up and goes down. I've been searching for quite a while but haven't found an on/off button that will relay when the sun rises and fades below the horizon. Does anyone know of a light level switch that can do this? Is this possible at all? A: I would use an ambient light sensor with a relay and a decent microcontroller to do it. It would be a miracle if having a barbecue with friends and family in the middle of summer or a casual dinner over the weekend in the winter won't be curtailed by the thought of COVID-19. However, the leader of the Conservative Party of Canada said she won't be among those people. The Conservative party isn't cancelling the federal election due on October 21. While the Conservative leader is often criticized for her policies on climate change, other issues, and of course her past ties to Trump, she's also known for being able to count the number of remaining days until the
