The Bulls click, play, and win the games they are supposed to win. Many say they lack one player to really be the same. I disagree. Sure, we eventually lost one leading player, but we managed to replace him. And we managed to find a second, and even a third, and we feel like it could happen again. If you don't believe us, take a look at today's game, and you'll see that it really is. That's not all we wanted to say. We would like to continue our friendship, but nothing more. As soon as I finished reading my last message, there was silence in the room.
