Based on the hit desktop game Slime Rancher, "Slime Rancher: Original Soundtrack" is a full orchestral score written by a team of composers and performed by the Grammy nominated Golden Globe Award-winning composer Harry Mack. Featuring all new game-themed tunes, this soundtrack contains 16 tracks each uniquely inspired and designed to accompany particular scenes in the game. The entire soundscape is packaged in a single, highly-detailed album with dynamic surround sound. Soundtrack Features: • 33 orchestral tracks: 2 Classic themes, 11 Sanctuary themes, 5 Island themes, and 15 Moon themes • Composition by Harry Mack • Specially recorded and mastered by Svetlana Bogdanova at Sony Music Studios in London • Includes all the music from the game, plus exclusive tracks all in the same quality • Themes include vocals by Rachael Sage. • Includes the song "1,000 Light Years Away" performed by Chelsea Lee Greenwood Description A revolution in online sandbox game development Game Director First Run Recordings are excited to announce that they have announced the landmark achievement of getting their new title Slime Rancher onto Steam's "New and Noteworthy" sections. Slime Rancher is an online sandbox game developed and published by Furi and comes highly recommended by the Indie Game Freaks. The game launched on the Steam Early Access platform back in August this year and since then has gained over 1.5 million sales from a humble $15,000 budget. During the development of the game, the team realised it needed to broaden the play field to allow for freer creative expression and this prompted them to adopt Steam's Early Access platform to share in-progress builds of the game in exchange for player feedback, which has since been invaluable to the game's development process. This unique dev process effectively gave players early access to key content such as the first badger characters, gardens, and concepts. The game development team even went further to allow players to help develop the game by becoming part of the community around the game, with some players joining the development team as 'Slime Lab' employees. Slime Rancher offers an innovative approach to open world development by customising the look and feel of the game through the use of 'Garden Kits'. These kits contain a pre-constructed 'Nature Lab' that players can access and start building as

00:00:22 AARON SWENSON yes As you may know, I've done this blog regularly since 2002, covering the things that go on in my life, my projects and my music. Ever since I moved to new York City and became "officially" a full-time work-at-home dad, things have gotten a little more crazy around here. Of course, most of my time is spent on this blog, so I've been doing those things, off line with video games and of course, my music. Up until recently, though, I've been using the net for things like Facebook, reddit and of course, the pirates. My new job has put me at such a disadvantage working from home. I now have to drive half an hour to work each way everyday, even though I work from home. Not only that, but I have almost nothing to show for it. I have things I want to show you, but I have no video games to show you. I have no reason to believe that I ever will. No, I'm not a bit bitter. I simply want to show you this for a few reasons. First, I need to apologize for being less than regular. Second, I wanted to show you, the things I can do when I have no reason to live. Third, of course, there's the music. There are two of me out there. The version you see here, is the vanilla version of me. The real Aaron Swenson (me) resides on my SoundCloud account. That user, however, is completely inactive and about to get a lockscreen put on my phone in case I log in and make a noise. Just taking a break from that. As we speak, there's a pirate on the outside of this blog, and he's shredding the help... hoping his name shows up. This week, I'm going to be transitioning to rythem in my music, something I haven't done since the late 2000's. I'm not done switching things over, but I want to show you this this year. I have a newly uploaded YouTube account, one that's currently getting a lockscreen. It is called, "Aaron Swenson (who dreams of his lost video game voice actors
