DTMF Dial Crack Keygen is a software application created to emit DTMF tones (including A, B, C and D) from the PC sound card. It has push button, keyboard, clipboard paste and command line interface - with programmable memory, last

16 number redial and tool tray operation. Tone lengths, gaps, pauses and prefix can be easily configured. By holding the microphone of a telephone handset to the speaker this makes for a very simple and easy auto-dialer. Tones are emitted through a built in Windows PC speaker in the same frequency range as a telephone handset. Tones can be configured to be emitted at any frequency from 3.5 kHz to 10 kHz plus or minus 10 Hz. Each tone is generated on a specific channel (group) of the sound card. This can be configured for more than 16 tones (group) at one time, thus saving memory. A 10 kHz keyboard emulator is included for use with Windows 95 and NT. The last 16 DTMF digits can be redialed by pressing the enter key. With push button operation you can easily bypass the need to record the key press, your hand may be on the microphone at the wrong time. Also if using the keyboard emulator you can use the DTMF push buttons with a mouse as well. The sound card input can be configured for mute or not. If you set the sound card input to mute by default, you can use the DTMF Dial Cracked Accounts on another PC and nothing will be played at its PC's sound card. Dialer can be configured to stop on the last number of a number group, over write the last number of that number group, or stop after a pause. Programmable memory allows you to configure and save the last used settings and can save the last 16 numbers used with the DTMF dial to memory. The DTMF dial's tool tray controls can be programmed to call a phone number, save the number in programmable memory or configure the PC speaker to emit a text message. More features to come in the future. Sample Features: 1. On-screen instructions are printed at mouse-over 2. On-screen instructions and the buttons are highlighted when you are pointing them 3. Each button has its own instruction when you point at it 4. The "max" button and the "min" button are also highlighted when you are pointing at them 5. When the key is pressed, the color of
