My code so far: def count(df, mask=True): mask = mask or df.groupby('field_id').count() == 0 return (df.merge(mask) .groupby('field_id')['count'] .sum().drop('count', axis=1)) I have another function where I want to take the output of the above function and assign nulls where there were no matches. My attempt: def assign_nulls(df, mask): df[mask] = df[mask].mask(mask == 0) return df The problem is I get an error trying to replace the row values: TypeError: unhashable type
