Thanks for reading my post Bye ...a project team, this project is then loaded into a database which is shared with users in the company. Users can search for leads and you are presented with a list of leads. The ideas I want to discuss with you are: 1. How does this project fit into your solution (whether I should be doing it in the database or the web application). 2. How ...write. So let's get going. My project is looking for a Developer to do the following: The project is a cloud-based application, which performs an email marketing campaign every week. This project is open-ended and will continue at least 4-6 weeks. Since the project is ongoing, I believe that you should use the following method to calculate We need a developer experienced with ASP.NET C# (Multi-platform development.NET 4.0 and above) to develop a searchable and filterable system with the following specifications: -Two different users: a moderator and a normal user. Moderators will be in a position to see (open) all the projects submitted by a user, before they are moderated. -Projects We have a searchable file upload system. We need a web developer that can: 1.
