Mercenary Kings: Reloaded Edition v1.5.0.21320 version download Crack Free Download.Q: What's the analog in Rails of `{:read => :other_read}`? Suppose I have a `has_many :through` relationship and I want to ask all Users whether they read an Article or not. I can't find what's the analog of the following in Rails, in User.rb:
`@articles_read_by = Article.where(:user_id => params[:user_id])` A: I believe you're looking for this: `current_user.read_articles.includes(:article).exists?` You can also check this with `.present?: current_user.read_articles.present?` What you're referring to as "reading an article" might be different though if you're on a different (e.g. authorization) page, and you're asking whether the `current_user` is authorized to view that information.
