The county of Bear Lake has held a high school graduation for approximately the last 20 to 25 years. At that time, we didnt have a graduation program, because we did not have all the programs that we have today. At the time, we did not have dress code, we did not have a dress code. We just had a student dress code, which was grade of course. We didnt have commencement exercises. We just had one teacher stand up and talk about the students. For the most part, we didnt have a graduation ceremony. We did, however, have a graduation banquet. In 1968, we had Mr. Knupp come from Minneapolis to be our superintendent. He then started up the school, and made several changes in the school. He made the graduation a little more public, so that parents could be there. Then, he started the Graduation Committee. We then decided that each class would have a Graduating Class President, and we would have a Graduating Class Directory. We would also have a Graduating Class Program. I got a memo from Mr. Knupp that said that, for 1968, he requested that a research be done as to how other school districts were graduating. He wanted to see how we could organize our graduation in a manner that would be public, but maintain a highly academic, non-public posture. He sent letters to all our schools in the area. He asked the other school districts how they arranged their graduation and what they did about their graduation, because, at that time, it was his idea that I would contact these school districts. He said that he would pay me travel expense. I have a copy of that letter. I told Mr. Knupp that I would contact the other school districts, and find out what they were doing. I contacted the Alpine school district, and the Alpine School District referred me to the Grand Coulee School District. When I called the Grand Coulee School District, the head lady, at that time, had passed away. Her name was Jean Bronson. In her last year of teaching in that area, she told me that she had a Graduating Class Directory printed, and she gave it to the school
