Photoshop Elements, a free program based on Photoshop, is targeted at home users. However, because it's new, it has fewer features, so some consumers prefer using Photoshop. Photoshop, like any other computer application, has a place on the web for users to post and share their images. The photo sharing service Flickr (www.flickr.com) enables you to create and then view your photos in the web interface, just like in Photoshop. Flickr supports many image formats, including RAW, which you can use to create your own high-quality images. Image Retouching with PhotoShop Elements PhotoShop Elements 10 is a slimmed-down version of Photoshop that's ideal for home users who don't need the most advanced tools to create images. It's a great alternative to Photoshop in the event that your computer can't handle the full version. You can find information about the software on the CD or download it from the Adobe web site at www.adobe.com/products/photoshop. This chapter takes you through some of the most useful features found in the free PhotoShop Elements program. The following sections walk you through some of the more frequently used tools, including the Adjustment Layers, which enable you to retouch an image in layers. Getting acquainted with the Adjustment Layers panel PhotoShop Elements, like most Adobe products, is deeply layered. When you create a new image in the program, you can apply adjustment layers, using layers just as you would any other layer in the image. These adjustment layers contain settings for brightness, saturation, contrast, and other parameters. Use the Adjustment Layers panel to control the appearance of your image, to hide layers and adjust the effect of one image on another. To open the panel, choose Tools>Adjustment Layers. The Layers panel, shown in Figure 1-1, opens when you create an adjustment layer. The panel contains the following panels: History panel: This is the panel used to store adjustment layers. It includes the color histogram (covered in the next section), several panels that show the history of the image, and a thumbnail panel that shows the actual content of the image. Layer panel: This panel shows the layers that have been created in your image. Effects panel: The Effects panel gives you access to an assortment of presets for adjusting your images. Thumbnail panel: This small window displays a thumbnail view of the

Q: how to combine column value into a single string i have a table like this : ColorId | ProdId | NullColorId 0 | 0 | null 1 | 0 | 1 2 | 0 | null 3 | 0 | null 4 | 1 | null 5 | 1 | null 6 | 1 | null I have a query that retrieve a count of the 'NullColorId' : select count(case when NullColorId is not null then 1 else 0 end) as nullcolorcnt from tbl I would like to get a list with 'ColorId' and 'ColorName' like this : ColorId | ColorName 0 | red 0 | yellow 0 | null 1 | green 1 | null 2 | null 3 | null 4 | blue 5 | null 6 | null A: You have to use joins and unnest() function and group by ColorId to get the ColorName and ColorId for every values from NullColorId column. SELECT ColorId, ColorName FROM (SELECT ColorId, ColorName, NullColorId, NullColorId AS ColorId, COUNT() cnt FROM tbl GROUP BY ColorId) nested UNNEST(cnt) cnt WHERE NullColorId IS NOT NULL If you are using SQL Server, you could use window functions: SELECT ColorId, ColorName FROM (SELECT ColorId, ColorName, NullColorId, NullColorId AS ColorId, COUNT() cnt, COUNT(1)

What's New in the Adobe Photoshop CS6?

" " I understand, yeah." " Alright." "Oh, what the fuck?" "I'm totally gonna shoot you." "Oh, shit." "Get down." "Get down." "What's that?" " What?" " What is that?" "Hey, you fuckin' with me, man?" " No." "Alright, alright." " Stop." "I don't give a shit, alright?" "I don't give a shit." "Stop." " Put that goddamn gun down." " That's fuckin' weird." "Why is that fuckin' weird?"

"C'mon, put the gun down." "It's okay." "I'm not gonna shoot you." "I got a wife, three kids." "I want to go home." " Okay." " I want my fuckin' life back." "That's it." "I'm sorry, but I don't give a shit." "Put it down, or I will blow your fuckin' brains out."
"Okay, alright." "Alright." "Good." "Don't fuckin' move." "I gotta get in the car." "Alright." "Open the fucking door!" "Open the door." " Open the fuckin' door." " Okay." "Open the fucking door." "Alright, alright." "Open it!" "Get in, get in." "Get in."
"Shit." "What the fuck?" "Get the fuck outta the way." "Hello."
"This is Detective Addams with Major Crimes Unit." "We're checking license plate" "Holy fuck." "God." "What?" "Yes."
"Yes, I'll hold." "No, they were here." "A man and a woman." "I fucking know him." "What?" "I don't fucking know him." "The guy's named Earl." "He's fuckin' named Earl." "Listen, just calm down." "We don't know each other." "I don't know him." "I never met him." "Yes, yes." "How do I know you?" "I don't know you, either." "Yes." "I'll fucking hold." "Are you fuckin' kidding me?"
"After all this time?" "I don't know him, either." "Yes, I'll hold."
"Sorry." "You have the right to an attorney." "If you cannot afford an attorney, the court will appoint one." "Do you understand your rights?" "Where the fuck are you?" "In
