Game World “The music certainly provides an excellent atmosphere during gameplay. This is really impressive considering the variety of tasks that have to be completed.” SEGA “I really love the graphics and the storytelling. When it comes to the gameplay, the game really pushes the RPG genre. I really think this game should be more well-known.” NINTENDO WEB SEED “Not only the presentation, but the soundtracks sound fantastic. One of the best RPG soundtracks I've heard.” 4-4x Emotion “This is a genuinely beautiful game. The graphics and the sound are both incredible.” PLAYERUNKNOWN “The graphics and the game design are eye-popping. They really make this feel like an indie game. The story is all written and voiced, and it's an incredibly well-rounded and complex experience.” KOTAKU “The graphics are simply outstanding and the worlds of Luna and Elysium are stunning. Furthermore, the story, voice acting, and gameplay in the game are excellent.” THE TROLLYMAN ■ A Variety of Combat Actions with Time-Stop “The variety of actions you can perform are also fun. You can time-stop to take advantage of your enemies' weaknesses.” GAME CHIVE “There is a wide variety of gameplay in this game. The various actions are also fun.” PURPLE TENTACLE ■ An Ancillary Business with a Deep Story “The backstory is like a half-baked JRPG novel. I liked this aspect a lot.” GAME CHIVE ■ Experience an Action-RPG That's Unique with the Interaction System “I was surprised to find that the battle system allows easy access to the secondary action.” GAME TRACE “The attacks in battle are fun to use. The other action is fun to use by itself, too.” GNOG ■ Player Actions Enable a Lively Drama on the Game World “The interweaving of actions and story lines is very fun.” GNOG ■ An Action- bff6bb2d33

A profile of graduates of the Emergency Medicine Residency Training Program at the University of Michigan, 2001-2005. Recent trends in medical education call into question the long-held belief that emergency medicine (EM) is a specialty that can be mastered by residency training. To assess the readiness of graduates of an EM residency training program to assume primary responsibility for emergency care, we evaluated the professionalism and clinical knowledge of 45 graduates during the period 2001 through 2005. From July to September 2006, we mailed surveys to each of the graduates, which were returned by 40 (89%). Survey results were analyzed using descriptive statistics and content analysis. One-third (31%) of respondents spent more than 2 years in an EM residency, and two-thirds (67%) were female. During residency, respondents had an average of 4.8 years of EM experience prior to the residency and 2.8 years post-residency. Most (89%) had more than 3 years of ancillary experience with a scope of practice encompassing both emergency medicine and other disciplines. Graduates reported clinical expertise on a wide range of topics, including appendicitis, asthma, pulmonology, and CNS disorders, among others.

Notwithstanding the progress of our EM residency training program, our graduates continue to demonstrate the ability to practice high-quality emergency medicine.
