Perth Glory is happy to confirm that the Hyundai A-League blockbuster against the Newcastle Jets on Monday 6 September has been switched to 6:00pm on One HD. The clash will be played at nib Stadium at Carrington Gardens, which is on the grounds of the Newcastle campus of the University of Newcastle. Perth Glory Managing Director Tony Sage said the decision to switch the match from its scheduled start time of 8:40pm was a direct result of work to improve matchday services in the Central Coast region. "Perth Glory is committed to providing a top class experience for our guests at all our matches at nib Stadium, and we are delighted that the clash between the Glory and Jets will be played at 6:00pm on Monday 6 September," Sage said. "Newcastle is an important part of Perth's AFL journey and we're excited to be able to bring a match to the Newcastle fans at nib Stadium." While most of Perth Glory's season has been played in front of a sell-out crowd at nib Stadium, there have been unsold allocation match-day tickets remaining at various matches this season. In addition to the 6:00pm kick off time, 7:40pm start times will also be available for those who have not bought tickets for the match. Sage said the decision was made with the best interests of fans in 6d1f23a050
